The Woman and Fourteen Planes A Boston special says : Mrs. Mary A. Davidson has kept a music-store in Lynn for several years. About a week ago she suddenly left the city and told her husband not to be alarmed if she did not return for a week. He says that he knows not where she is, and no trace of her could be found up to this morning by many anxious creditors. Woodward & Brown and Oliver Ditson, of Boston, are most affected by the failure. Fourteen pianos from the latter house cannot be found. They have undoubtedly been let to some parties in Lynn and its vicinity. Mr. Davidson had nothing whatever to do with the business. Pianos mortgaged by
